

1.18 Hazardous Material Warning Symbols

Government regulations require that hazardous household products must be marked with warning symbols that indicate why, and to what degree, a product is dangerous.

Labels from the Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS). Before using any products, always read the label to check how to handle the product safely.